543 161 34 18 6 Contests have occurred on 4 delegates in Clarke and all 17 in Botetourt, but with the advantage with the O'Ferrall delegates in both instances. Only three districts have elected in Campbell, one in Chesterfiel and two in Prince Edward. Wythe is instructed for Kent, but would divide 4 for O'Ferrall and 14 for Tyler as second choice.

NEITHER SILVER NOR THE TARIFF.

Present indications are not favorable to an un conditional repeal of the Sherman act. The silver Senators are firmly banded together, and will not give an inch without silver legislation more favorable than that which now obtains. The Treasury has made a serious mistake in letting its July purchases fall below the mandatory 4,500,000 ounces, and the silver men will use it for more

In view of this condition of affairs the banks and commercial bodies which have scared the business public half out of their wits by predicting all sorts of avils as a consequence of continued silver purchases, would do well to hedge on their statements. The views of William Seligman, the well-known New York banker, on the situation will be of interest. He denies that the Sherman act is responsible for the present condition of affairs and says that booms and over capitalization and the loaning of money by banks on boom stocks are the main factors of the

"I do not think," says he, "gold exports from Amer ca are due to the silver system. It is a stubborn and brutal fact, which cannot be overcome, that if gold is sent out of the United States, it is because the United States owes the money. It is due to excess of importations over exportations. It is not any question of silver purchases or of tariff. The United States is the richest and most resourceful country in the world. The very worst tnat can happen to it, as a result of this crisis, is that gold may command a premium of 5 or 10 per cent., but even this I do not apprehend. America will not always have an adverse trade bal ance to contend with, and the tide of gold will set westward whether the Sherman and McKinley laws are repealed or not."

Since gold imports of ten million dollars the coming week are indicated, Banker Seligman's statements will receive added weight.

THE DELEGATES.

The only notable features of the election of delegates this week are the fact that Danville gives its twelve votes to Buford by very narrow majorities, one of the O'Ferrall delegates being tied, and that Frederick county, of which Winchester is the county seat, casts its twenty votes for O'Ferrall, with a ringing pledge adopted by a two to one vote. It seems that Alexander's iniluence, like Sheridan, was "twenty miles away."

Accomac gives O'Ferrall a strong majority, and encouraging reports are received from other quarters where delegates are to be chosen this week.

THE breaking of the big pork corner in Chicago yesterday is not an unmixed evil. Pork at $19 a barrel is out of all proportion to its worth when wheat is under sixty cents and corn is quoted at 38. The interests of the consumer are always as important as those of the producer, though they seldom receive the same consideration.

THE Hill counties in Virginia are going for O'Ferrall and his strongest opposition comes principally from Cleveland counties. We commend these facts to the consideration of the fearsome people who have seen the shadow of the Administration at Colonel O'Fer rall's back.

W. R. ALEXANDER stops stringing his wires to fill Colonel O'Ferrall's unexpired term in Congress long enough to fright the startled moon with the mournful bay that "O'Fercall cannot be nominated for governor."

ARTISTIC NOOK.

Soft, Neutral Tints, Making the Effect Cool and Inviting.

Lightness, airiness and comfort are the indispensable characteristics of the parlor in the summer cottage. The rich. dark colorings or the extreme delicacy which may evince itself with such pleas-ing results in the city drawing room is quite inharmonious in the modest home.

The illustration seen is one corner of a parlor, which may safely be called the most important because of the comfortable window seat with its luxurious cushions and the magnificent view afforded.

The walls are covered with a soft tone salmon cartridge paper, bordered by a frieze of robin's egg blue in which a graceful arabesque design of bronze is artistically traced. On the walls are choice etchings framed in dark green enamel to match the woodwork of the room.

The floor is covered with a moss green filling, which will agree admirably with the furnishings of the room.

The windows are hung with sash cur tains of exposition drapery (a cotton fabric having a crapelike surface) in a pretty shade of salmon pink, arranged on slender brass rods and caught up diagonally under bows of pink satin ribbon. Over the top is gracefully disposed a drapery of the same hung over a brass pole, the ends being drawn through rings. At the center three artistic festoons are formed by the drapery being thrown round the pole. This arrangement is extremely effective.

The window seat is upholstered in pink cretonne, but if a more elaborate fabric be desired French brocade may be selected. Carelessly thrown on the seat are two large down pillows of drapery silk, Japanese crape, denim or cre-tonne. The edges of one are finished with a moss fringe, while the corners of the other are twisted up to form rosettes.

At one side of the recess is placed a tufted seat of cretonne daintily draped with green silk cord, and at the other side is set a wicker stool having a tufted cushion, the bronze of the stool contrasting with the delicate cretonne. An oriental rug is laid diagonally across the

For Soiled Carpets.

In cleaning a badly soiled carpet great precaution should be used. Brussels tapestries, wiltons or velvet carpets may be cleansed with ox gall, a pint to a pail of water. Use an ordinary scrubbing brush, and afterward the carpet should be vigorously rubbed with a coarse cloth. Fresh water should be applied. A small portion of the carpet done each day dur-ing hot and sultry weather would keep it greatly refreshed in colorings as well as sweet and clean.

Girls with perfumed hair are now the "correct thing." It is difficult to do. Of course the hair must be combed carefully every day. That gives the glossy effect which is so much in vogue, but this is only the start in the perfuming of it. A young lady who has tried it successfully says: "There are ways and ways of perfuming the hair, but I found the best way was to have a mob cap of soft, thin silk made and lined with cotton that had been thickly sprinkled with sachet powder. Now, after weekly shampoos, I wear the cap for an hour and a delicate, indistinct fragrance is imparted to the locks that is the epitome of daintiness."

To Make Good Mashed Potatoes.

Pare the potatoes, put them in boiling water well salted and cover the pot. Alsteadily until tend Drain thoroughly when done, sprinkle with a little salt, mash them in the pot with a potato beetle, working in a tablespoonful of butter and enough milk to make the paste soft and flaky.

SENT ON THE GRAND JURY.

Justice Gregory Remands Douglas Lowry to That Body.

Douglas Lowry was tried before Justice R. L. Gregory yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, at the West End, charged with having outraged Mrs. Allie Ferguson, wife of Moses Ferguson, a full account of which appeared in The Times of yesterday. Justice Gregory's office was packed with a large crowd of eager spectators.
Capt. Geo. McH. Gish had been employed and was present to prosecute and the prisoner was represented by Edward Lyle.

Edward Lyle.

The statement made by Ferguson was in the main the same as his published story in The Times, but Mrs. Ferguson moderated her story and said in substance that she made no outery or serious resistance from the fact that she knew it would be useless as Lowry was so much stronger than she. The prisoner continues to tell the same story, maintains his innocence and denies that any tains his innocence and denies that any coercion was used.

The case was ably argued by counsel

The case was any argued by counsel and the justice sent the prisoner on to await the action of the grand jury. While he thought the probabilities are that the prisoner was innocent under the law, the justice thought the affair should be investigated by the grand

A Pleasant Festival.

The Young Ladies Christian Temperance Union gave a lawn fete last night on the grounds of the residence of L. Blair, at the corner of Park street and Church avenue, which was attended by a large number of young ladies and gentlemen. The lawn was artistically illuminated with Japanese lanterns and the tables and refreshment, booths were the tables and refreshment booths were artistically arranged on the grounds. The patronage was liberal and the festival will be continued to-night.
